Deepfake Sharing Behaviour with a Focus on Emotional Valence and Cognitive Biases

Examined how emotional valence in AI-generated content (deepfakes) influences their sharing intentions, exploring the impact of altering emotional valence on users' willingness to share.

How deepfakes are perceived in Asian countries

Investigated how people's trust in the media changes when they are exposed to deepfakes in seven Asian countries (Singapore, Vietnam, Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand, China, and the Philippines). Primary focus on generating deepfakes and discussing research design.
